

Complaints and Dispute Resolution Procedure

Not satisfied? We want to hear from you so we can make things right.

1. How our Complaints and Dispute Resolution Procedure works

If you have a question, complaint or dispute about any aspect of Powerdirect's service or products, please call, email or write to us so that we can resolve your concerns. Our aim is to do this as quickly as we can. Hopefully we'll be able to resolve your complaint immediately, but if your issue is complex, further investigation may be needed before we can get back to you.

If this is the case, we'll try to resolve your complaint within 28 days of your original phone call or receiving your letter or email. During this time if we need further information from you, we'll contact you. You can also call us for an update on how we're going with the resolution.

For more information about your rights in relation to matters like estimated bills, concessions and hardship, visit powerdirect.com.au/help-support/meter-reads

Taking your concern to a higher level

If you're not happy at any stage with the way we are investigating your concern, you may have your complaint handled at a higher level by the relevant manager. You may request this at any time by calling or writing to us.

Taking your concern to the ombudsman

We are a member of the relevant ombudsman scheme in the states in which we sell electricity. After attempting to resolve your complaint with us, if you're not satisfied with our efforts, you may contact the relevant state ombudsman to review your complaint and our attempted resolution. A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction made to us whereby a resolution or response is expected (either explicitly or implicitly). It may be related to our products, services, policies, procedures or the complaints-handling process.
